To Whom it May Concern,

My name is Mohit Gangwani, and I am a pre-final year student with a passion for Analyst. I was thoroughly impressed with the company's various divisions, roles, and culture. This experience has motivated me to apply for a Analyst position at Deloitte, as I believe my skills and dedication align with the organization's goals. I have been honing my skills in Analyst and I am confident that I have the skills and knowledge required for this position. I am excited to put my skills to the test and learn more about the field of Analyst.

As a teacher assistant, I have developed strong organizational and communication skills that are essential for success in a Analyst role. My experience has taught me the importance of effective communication and organization, and I am confident that I would be able to collaborate effectively with others in a team setting. Additionally, as a hackathon 2nd runner-up, I have proven my ability to think creatively and work efficiently under pressure, which would be valuable in a fast-paced and constantly evolving Analyst field.

Furthermore, my ability to contribute effectively to a project that uses a different tech stack highlights my adaptability and willingness to learn. I understand that keeping up-to-date with new technologies is critical in the Analyst field, and I am confident that I have the skills and mindset necessary to thrive in this environment. Overall, my combination of transferable skills and unique experiences makes me an ideal candidate for a Analyst role, and I am excited about the opportunity to contribute to your team.

In conclusion, I am extremely excited about the Analyst role at Deloitte and believe that my skills and experiences make me a strong fit for the position. Thank you for taking the time to review my application.

Sincerely,
Mohit Gangwani.
